Dear Mr. Taylor:

Your name has been referred to me as one who has been active in the Prince Edward Historical Society. It is in this connection that I write to you. I am interested in finding information relative to the Brickman family which settled on the south shore of the Bay of Quinte sometime between 1790 and 1810.

I have been in touch with some Brickman descendants and they have ^{been} of some help but many questions remain unanswered and I therefore write to you. If you are unable to help I would appreciate it very much if you would refer me or this letter to someone to whom I might direct inquiries.

At the moment I am particularly interested in ascertaining if the Brickmans were United Empire Loyalists (it is said that they are), where and when they came to Canada.

A major difficulty I am experiencing is that being in Winnipeg one is removed from so many of the historical sources of information for a project of this nature. I have read several books relative to Prince Edward County and which have mentioned Ameliasburg Townships. It was in Ameliasburg that my grandfather, Joseph married Laura Weese in 1871. My grandfather was born in Concecon and came west with his father in the 1880's. To connect this branch of the family to those remaining in the Rednersville - Carrying Place Area has proved a task indeed!

I confess at once that I am completely inexperienced in this task and would appreciate any assistance and guidance you can provide me as to where I might direct inquiries in Prince Edward County to get assistance.

Many Thanks.

Yours truly
Harry Brickman

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

A friend of mine, Mr. Garfield Vernon Brickman, in the Department of the Attorney-General, asked me recently whether I could find anything in the U. E. L. records in respect of an ancestor of his, Lauderwick Brickman, who about 1828 had a farm near Rednersville in Prince Edward County.

Mr. Brickman understands that his ancestor lived for a time in Adolphustown before going to Rednersville. There appears to be a tradition in the family that the Brickmans had come from near Poughkeepsie, New York, although there also seems to be a belief that they came from Pennsylvania. These need not be conflicting statements since the Palatines, for example, spent time in both New York and Pennsylvania.

I have checked the various U. E. L. records available to me for Brickman entries but cannot locate any by that name. On page 283 of "The Centennial of the Settlement of Upper Canada by The United Empire Loyalists," published in 1885 there is mentioned a Bringman, Christopher, Provisioned at Johnstown, and on page 287, there is an entry for Brinkman, Christopher, German Soldier. I wonder if these refer to the same person. Rickerman, Edward, and Ryckerman, Tobias, both shown as having residence in Ameliasburg and Sophiasburg are listed on page 242. It would take quite a change to go from Ryckerman to Brickman, but having run across about ten spellings for Rowse, including Bowse, I am not too surprised at the name transmutations that have taken place.

An examination of various publications shows that there were in New York Province at the time of the American Revolution, families by the name of Brink, Brinck, Brinkerhoff, Brinckerhoff, Beckman and Beeckman. It would not be very difficult to have Beeckman switch to Brickman.

Would you kindly go over your records and see if you can turn up anything in respect of the Brickman family in Adolphustown or in Prince Edward County which might be of value to Mr. Brickman in his search.

Mr. Brickman expects to be down around Belleville in August. Can you suggest people who are interested in historical matters in or around Belleville and Picton that might propose avenues to be followed up by Mr. Brickman if he were to call upon them in August?

With kindest regards,

Yours very truly,

Newell
